CHOSEN ONE

When God gave me a cross to bear
I had no feeling of utter despair
But wondered what I had done that I should be his chosen one.

I did not ask the reason why
Our blessed Lord would think that I Possessed the virtue of resignation or had the merit of mortification.

He, who knows all, has sought me out,
what ever he ask, I'll never doubt,
It's an honor great to do his task and never will I a question ask.

Though answers have been a million fold
In my heart the secret I hold,
Aren't I lucky to think that he,
with all the world — selected me.

Reach out . . . The only limits are the ones you place upon yourselves. This year you have reached for many things: friends, fun, honors, achievements, and for seniors a future. We have tried to portray this and how many times you did reach your goals, and how many times you failed to reach them. In time, this yearbook and the people pictured within its pages, will be forgotten, but don't ever stop . . . reaching out.

This 1978-79 school year has been most pleasant. We have seen so many plans become reality. In athletics our girls and boys have done so well in all areas; basketball, track, softball, volleyball and baseball. School spirit has been at an all time high. Academic achievements at science fairs, literary and music rallies, teenage contests and other competitive areas of extra curricular involvement of our clubs and organizations, have contributed to Oak Hill being recognized as one of Louisiana's most outstanding high schools.

We appreciate the fine teachers and other employees, students, their parents, community leaders, churches and pastors for contributing their time and efforts in helping to make Oak Hill one of the best!

Congratulations to the Annual Staff for giving us "1978-79" in this beautiful edition of the Acorn.

Donald E. Robinson

Although my term as the school board member has just begun, I realize the important part your fine school plays in your community and in our parish as a whole. May we all strive to make it an even better place so that its service may be even greater in the future.

LONE STAR BAPTIST CHURCH

FELLOWSHIP CHURCH

The building at Fellowship Methodist Church was 106 years old. Land was given in March, 1872 by Mrs. Margaret MacIntosh. The deed states that "The church is located in the center of the plot," indicating that the building had been completed by that date. All the sills, plates, and joists were hand hewn and pegged. For many years prior to that date, camp meetings were held for 2 weeks every summer. The interior of the building had recently been modernized and the cemetery enlarged. This beloved church burned on Sunday August 13, 1978.
